WHAT WILL CONGRESS SAY?

One thing that must appeal to Congress nore forcibly than anything else is that New York presents itself equipped for the fight. The plan for the Fair is already formed and fifteen million dollars are pledged with which to carry on the scheme. The other aspiring cities, St. Louis, Chicago and Washington, do not show themselves with this immense guar-

SOCIALISTIC GERMANY.

The great German Empire is more than ever worthy study and attention since the election yesterday. An enormous vote was polled. The returns show a gain for the Socialists. Herr LIEBKUECHT and Herr SINGER were elected, the latter defeating one of the most distinguished poli tained indement against the Stautsburger Zeilung, and the editor was fined. Emperor William, by the exercise of royal prerogative, remitted the fine. His elec-

WILLIAM has given months of close study to the question of Socialism, and his recent attempt to convene an international congress to consider the question shows that he wishes to act. More will be heard from the Emperor, and with this growing Socialism in the Empire events of an in-teresting character may be looked for in looking, but has earned a veteran's fame, as testeresting character may be looked for in Germany.

Mrs. Kendal had fewer opportunities in Impulse" which was produced last night at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, than in any of the plays in which she has as yet appeared, NO. 10,412 Her husband and a far larger slice of the possibilities. But both Mr. and Mrs. Kendal merely supplied the comedy element to a rather Parisian story. They were the tween an erring wife and an trate husband. They were of accordary importance, and ... think of it, ye stars !- they were at the side and not in the centre of the stage at the fall of the final curtain.

Mrs. Kendal was delightfully amusing in the role of Mrs. Beresford, Her quaint Kendal as Captain Crichton never sinned by exaggeration. The absurd foppishness of the Captain Fred Land of the Captain F of the Captain would be a temptation to most actors to overact and pose, but Mr. Kendal was quiet and wonderfully effective. What the pretty eashier is to the clerical force the ribbon-girl is to the mill operative. She belongs to the very Brahmins of mill society. She does not make any more salary than the girl who spins jute or winds carpet yarn, but the atmosphere she breathes has considerably more rarity about it, her surroundings are better, and as a rule she has the protecting influence of home life and the sheltering arm of a father or big brother to shield her from social and industrial abuses.

She goes to school, attends church, belongs to some club or society and like the fund, some time to elaborate a scheme for the Fair, and Congress will naturally feel balls rolling. in It Indexing. Now, as to making a scrap-book, says a Cleveland Leader correspondent, I prefer the agricultural reports, as the books are nicely bound, and each page holds just two columns of ordinary newspaper print, entirely covering the printed "reports," and leaving a white margin on both sides the paper. When the printed page is not entirely covered it is often puzzling to have a column of halves of words of a dairy or column of halves of words of a dairy or farm report running into your other reading matter every line or so.

A half-inch of margin should be left at the top and bottom of each page, for by much turning of leaves the edges become frayed, and can be trimmed off without interfering with the print.

First of all, cut out every other leaf of your intended scrap-book and save them to do the passing upon, as they are convenient to measure your lengths of "scraps" as you paste. Trim all edges to do the passing upon, as they are convenient to measure your lengths of "scraps" as you paste. Trim all edges even, and paste "true to the une."

Ordinary flour paste, cold, and as thin as muchage, quickly and evenly applied, is the best. If put on properly, the paper you are pasting will not even be wet through, and will dry in fifteen minutes after it is in your book. A strap of soft cloth wound around a short stick forms your brush, and a soft, clean cloth to lightly rub over the surface of the straps of newspaper are all the materials needed.

Archie Borland, One of the Old Time Miners and Millionaires.

The death of Archie Borland at his home in Cakland, says a San Francisco special, removed one of the most promiment and p cturesque of old miners on this coast. Rorland began mining when a lad of seventeen. He learned the business from the battern up, and when the great Com-stock brake out he was able to jump from the place of common inner to a wealthy speculator in a few months.

He was one of the best experts ever known here, and when the big lonaina was found in Consolidated Virginia and California, Borland had a block of the sock which would have nettled him $5,800,000 had he sold out at the top of the market.
